CLASS THEME

The Possible Dream

The theme of the graduating class of 69-70 is "The Possible Dream." As a whole, our class dream is based on deep thought into the future. We as seniors know we have completed only one part of our dream leaving many more to be completed. Being at Palmer has made us aware that in order to complete other parts of our dream, "we must fight the unbeatable foe, we must love pure and chase from afar," "we must go where the brave dare not go," "we must laugh when our hearts are too weary," and we must suffer to become the best. Are these things just an impossible dream that could never come true for us? If we keep striving, can we make it? We believe there is no dream impossible and we, the graduating class of 69-70 believe we can make it

Taji Brown

The Quest

We have only finished one part of our dream, leaving many more to be completed. When we look back, we think of things we have left to do in life. Things that have been done before and things that we can do better. We dream the Impossible Dream, and if we dream hard enough, it will not be Impossible.

This will be the work for them who will sail and swim the mightiest oceans. To follow the wounded fawn seeking refuge in the forest. To follow it past that highest mountain, for nothing shall stand in the way of the Quest.

To cross the fluorescent desert . . . To cross it like a wind-swept carpet whose wind isn't there, and we push and whine all the way across this humid hell-on-earth. But we shall arrive, and there should be no complaint because we have conquered our quest.

Then there's life itself. We could settle for the little streams of the mountains, but we'll take the road. We'll follow up the road . . . that road with rocks and curves and bumps. We'll kick the rocks and bend the curves and we'll smooth those bumps as if there was nothing there at all. With the help of God, we shall arrive.

For all of these things are life and this is our quest.

PALMER MEMORIAL INSTITUTE
SEDALIA, NORTH CAROLINA 27342

March 12, 1970

Dear Seniors:

As you approach the end of your Palmer journey, you must know that you are beginning your long journey into life. The sojourn you are about to embark upon will mean a continuing accumulation of knowledge.

This learning, both formally, in college, and informally, as you are growing in your apprehension of the world about you, is a "trust." You hold your knowledge, your education, your learning in "trust" with an obligation to apply it to the betterment of your brothers and sisters among the human family.

If we do not convey to you a sense of mission, a sense of service to your disadvantaged brothers, to your underprivileged sisters, to your hungry and cold fellowmen, then we have failed miserably in our task and you have betrayed the "trust" for which you happen to be the temporary executors.

Dr. Martin Luther King reminded us that education is the tool for shaping the future rather than a luxury of an exclusive few. We become traitors to mankind if we use this tool to erect suburban xanadus while we remain plagued with racial hostility, grinding poverty, and war and famine at home and abroad.

I challenge you to use this "trust," this "tool," to make Dr. King's dream a reality.

Sincerely yours,

Harold E. Bragg
President

TO THE SENIOR CLASS:

Graduation is one method a school employs to indicate that students have successfully completed a series of courses sponsored by an institution. Grades are used as a principle measuring instrument to satisfy the State Board of Education and in this particular case, Palmer Memorial Institute.

My charge to you, the Senior Class of 1970, is that you prove Palmer Memorial Institute correct in now referring to you as alumnus of the school.

Success in the future.

Charles W. Bundrige

Class Prophecies

It is a funny thing to experience a dream and to find out there is so much meaning behind it. I had a dream not too long ago, that I had done some traveling all over the country giving seminars and doing some public speaking on the field of neurology. At one of these medical conventions I ran into my old alumni friend Denise Rogers, who was going to lecture on some aspects of psychology. While talking with Denise, I was informed that Shantel Pettigrew and Sharon Robinson would be attending the convention, since they are also in the field of psychology.

Sharon and Shantel finally showed up and Shantel told me that Olga Barnes was the head Lab Technician at Georgetown University Hospital. I was very happy to hear this. Sharon Robinson told me that Danny Flowers was her dentist. He was noted to be the best in the west. I must say that was really surprising. So we talked for a very long time and then it was time to depart. We promised to write each other and keep in touch.

My next stop was Columbia University in New York. I arrived at the airport and was surprised to see Pat Timmes as an airline stewardess. She was going to serve my flight. We got a chance to talk over old times and find out the latest happenings. I learned that she was living in New York and that a lot of Palmer graduates lived there also, and had become quite successful. Denise Billups was a business manager, and Linda Downs was her lawyer for the firm. Pat said that Linda charged enough to win every case! I also learned that Shelly Pope had become a very successful lawyer. I finally reached New York and Pat and I promised to keep in touch.

I took a cab to the Statler-Hilton where I would be staying a few days while in New York. And to my surprise I ran into Carlton Rutherford who was in New York for one of the Broadway plays along with his wife. I learned while talking to Carlton that he had made Political Science his profession. His home is in Boston and I also found out that Ronnie Burke was his next door neighbor. He is the chief engineer for the recent space flights to unknown regions.

Columbia University has a beautiful campus. While I was there I ran into Odette Trapp. She is head of the French Department, and I learned that Carvell Reeves was a political science professor. LaShene Lowe was head of the Philosophy Department. Taking a tour around the campus I went into the Athletics Department and saw Robyn Alexander. She was head of the Physical Education Department there. Robyn and I talked for awhile and she told me that Gregory Dean had graduated from Columbia and that he spent ten years of experience in law enforcement in Anniston Alabama. He was transferred to New York City and became Chief of Police of New York, from there he was recommended by the President of the United State to be the director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation where he is presently serving. I also found out that Michael Carter was historian at Smithsonian Institute, and Madison Mullen was head Taxidermist there.

Leaving from Columbia and returning to my hotel I ran into Robert Harris basketball coach of U.C.L.A. Bruins. His team was scheduled to play a game in New York that night. Talking with Robert I found out that Lafayette Smith was business accountant for the Alcoholic Rehabilitation Center and working with Lafayette was Beth Turpin, who was a social worker for the center. All the guests were invited to an art exhibit in the lobby of the hotel. So I decided to go in and look around. I noticed that the signature on the paintings belong to Annette Powell. I wondered if this could be the Annette Powell who graduated with me in 1970. And sure enough it was. She had a few art galleries in Europe, in New York, and California. We sat down for coffee and she told me that she had run into Taji Brown who was now a lawyer.

Finally I was able to return home and while waiting for my flight to depart from Kennedy airport, I ran into Ramona Burns who is running for Senator of Mississippi and through her I learned that Wouldredge Brown is the head Dietician at Moses Cone Memorial Hospital in Greensboro, North Carolina. Also working there is Brenda Bell, Head Registered Nurse.

Just as I was about to board my flight, I walked into James Buchner going to the gate. He is a business accountant. Linda Watson was on the same flight with me going to Los Angeles. I was surprised to find out that she has been living in Long Beach for five years. She's a Laboratory Technician for Los Angeles City Hospital. Linda was telling me that a lot of our high school graduates lived in California. Judith Crawford and Edith Holmes are dental assistants. Robert Stevens works down the street from her and he's a journalist for the Los Angeles Daily News, in the Homicide Department. And Brad Herring, whom, she sees once in awhile, has a lawyers office on Sunset Boulevard.

So it just goes to show you that life is what you make it. Try to be able to strive to reach whatever your goal may be. Nothing is impossible if you truly want it and if you believe in yourself. This is my dream, to believe, and most of all to have the desire.

CLASS POEM

Every member of a graduating class has certain dreams and beliefs that they want fulfilled. This class plans to "Hold Fast Their Dreams."

HOLD FAST YOUR DREAMS

Hold fast your dreams!
Within your heart
Keep one still, secret spot
Where dreams may go,
And, sheltered so,
May thrive and grow
Where doubt and fear are not.
O keep a place apart,
Within your heart,
For little dreams to go!

Think still of lovely things that are not true.
Let wish and magic work at will in you
Be sometimes blind to sorrow. Make believe!
Forget the calm that lies
In disillusioned eyes.
Though we all know that we must die,
Yet you and I
May walk like gods and be
Even now at home in immortality.

We see so many ugly things --
Deceits and wrongs and quarrelings
We know, alas! we know
How quickly fade
The color in the west,
The bloom upon the breast
And youth's blind hour.
Yet keep within your heart
A place apart
Where little dreams may go,
May thrive and grow.
Hold fast -- hold fast your dreams!

Louise Driscoll

THE CLASS SONG

"The Impossible Dream"

Lyrics by Joe D'Arion
Music by Mitch Leigh

To dream the impossible dream, to fight the unbeatable foe,
To bear with unbearable sorrow, to run where the brave dare not go.
To right the unrightable wrong, to love pure and chaste from afar,
To try when your arms are too weary, to reach the unreachable star!

This is my quest, to follow that star,
No matter how hopeless, no matter how far;
To fight for the right—without question or pause,
To be willing to march into hell for a heavenly cause!

And I know, if I'll only be true
To this glorious quest, that my heart will lie peaceful and calm,
When I'm laid to my rest,

And the world will be better for this;
That one man, scorned and covered with scars,
Still strove with his last ounce of courage,
To reach the unreachable stars.

We the Senior Class of 1970, leave the following as our last wills and testaments to the remaining Palmer Community.

Article I. To Mr. Bragg we will our desire that your dreams for Palmer will come true some day.

Article II. To the staff we will that you find your work a little bit easier and the days a little less hectic.

Article III. To the faculty we will our hopes that in the years to come you will look at the students as individuals first and students last.

Article IV. To the dormitory directors we will the fact that one face is better than two.

Article V. To the Junior Class except what happens here at Palmer without asking too many questions.

Article VI. To the Sophomores life is so much more than a dream; there is nothing in a make-believe world now that won't be there tomorrow, but can you say the same about reality.

Article VII. To the Freshmen Class thoughts and silence are golden; fear of loneliness is nothing but fear of yourself.

Article VIII. To the Sub-Freshmen take it easy greasy, you've got a long way to slide.

Article IX. To the Student Body love life, make the best of it, but above all be true to it.

Robyn Alexander wills to Keith, Sheila, Frankie and Ernie the ability to face life with a smile.

Olga Barnes wills to all of her remaining relatives to take what they have and are for what it is and make the best of it.

Brenda Bell wills to Wanda Peaks and Edith Smith much success in the near future.

Denise Billups wills to her daughters Marsha, Brenda, and Margo the ability to become leaders, and to Smiley her love and understanding. To Deb, carry on after her departure.

Taji Brown wills to Harry all the love in the world. To Linda, Vinny, Ralph, Bernie and Darryl everything her heart desires.

Wouldredge Brown wills to Sharron the courage to make all of her dreams come true.

Ronnie Burke wills to his daughter Carol Hawkins all his love and good wishes.
Ramona Burns wills to Danny and Bernadette the ability to remember that love is like life, we all have to face it.
Michael Carter wills to his campus kids Anita, Louise, Candy, Kim, and Junkey all his love as a father.
Stefene Clark wills all her love and best wishes to Michael, Richard, Douglas, Virginia, and Brenda in the near future.
Judy Crawford wills to her campus children the knowledge that a quitter never wins and a winner never quits.
Gregory Dean wills to his daughter Cynthia High all of his best wishes and much success in the future.
Linda Downs wills Bobby, Char, Warren, Lou, Doug, Mike and Lorna all her love.
Daniel Flowers wills to his son Fred Brewer all of his athletic ability.
Edith Holmes wills to Deborah Rice the ability to accept people for what they are. Remember Mommie loves you.

Acknowledgement

Our thanks are extended to everyone on the yearbook staff for their combined efforts in the making of this year's issue. Special thanks go to Edith Holmes and La Shene Lowe for laying out most of the book, to Mrs. Waddell for helping us with English usage, and especially to Mrs. Totton, our advisor.

Thanks also to Mr. Harris and our instructors for their cooperation and patience.
